WORK FOR UPLIFT OF COLORED RACE

Influence of the Negro Chris- Keynote of Senator Root's tian Student Convention at Atlanta, Ga.

ITS OBJECTS OUTLINED. WITH RESULTS ACHIEVED

Statement by Edward L. Parks, Treasurer of Howard University, Who Was a Participant.

Edward L. Parks, treasurer of Howard University, has returned to Washington rom the negro Christian student convention, which was held at Atlanta, Ga., May 14 to 18, inclusive, bringing accounts of a strong spiritual and moral mpulse given the students by the work of the organization.

The convention, which was called and was under the direction of Dr. John R. Mott, chairman of the continuation com mittee of the world missionary confer-ence, was attended by 660 persons, among gaged in the education of negroes. Mr. Parks says the interest in the convention was intense. Describing the work done, he said, today:

"One of the purposes of the convention was to give the present generation of negro students in the United States a strong spiritual and moral impulse. The most powerful forces to this end were present in the opening address of Dr. Poteat of Greenville, S. C., on 'Christ's Condition of Discipleship.' They reached their culmination in Dr. Mott's address, Sunday morning, on 'How to Make Christ Constantly Real in Our Life,' and the exposition and practical application of the opening verses of Hebrews 12, with which he closed the convention. Any delegate who was in an attitude to respond to the highest Christian truth and motives could not fall to go from the notives could not fall to go from the convention with a mighty moral and spiritual life impulse.

Responsibility of Students.

"Another purpose was to study with horoughness the responsibility of the negro students for leadership in Christian work at home and abroad, thus bringing them face to face with Christian life callings. This was especially prominent callings. This was especially prominent in the address, the first morning, by Prof. A. M. Trawick of Nashville, on The Negro Church and Home."

"This gave the facts of the present situation and showed the great improvements to be made. It was followed throughout the convention by various addresses, including those by Mrs. Hope of Atlanta on conditions and work there. dresses, including those by Mrs. Hope of Atlanta on conditions and work there; Mrs. J. D. Hammond of Augusta, Ga., on 'Home Making'; Bishop Thirkield, on 'The Shortcomings of the Negro Church': Dr. R. E. Jones of New Orleans, on 'Qualifications for the Negro Ministry'; Dean Imes of Tuskegee, on 'The Present Weakness of the Negro Country Church,' and T. C. Walker of Gloucester Court House, Va., on the 'Negro Country Church.'

Weakness of the Negro Country Church, and T. C. Walker of Gloucester Court House, Va., on the 'Negro Country Church.' 'Dr. S. C. Mitchell of Richmond, who also spoke, maintained that we have to come back to the church which embraces all the interests of the community. Many utterwaves voiced the crying need of so. utterances voiced the community. Many utterances voiced the crying need of social service in all its varied forms, and the importance of the work of women in the school and the community and of securing strong young men for the ministry.

"The latter purpose was also the main object of a masterful review by Dr. Mott Sunday evening on the world's Christian advance as he had witnessed it in his work during the past twenty years. He claimed that we cannot do our work at the best anywhere, at home or abroad, unless it is considered as a part of the world-wide work of Christ.

Duty of the Churches.

"Another purpose of the convention was to face the responsibility resting upon the negro churches of America to help meet the claims and crises of Africa. "Such men as Bishop Hartzell, who has for eighteen years directed on the ments in many parts of Africa; Rev. W. H. Sheppard, the negro missionary, who spent fifteen years in work in the Kongo which attracted the attention and con mendation of the Christian world; Dr Franklin, missionary secretary of the southern Baptists, who has studied the mission work extensively in Africa voiced the needs of that great continent

"Another purpose of the convention to which much attention was given was to consider what light Christian thought may throw on present and future cooperation of the races. Such men as Dr. W. D. Weatherford of Nashville, Dr. Dr. W. D. Weatherford of Nashville, Dr. J. D. Hammond of Augusta, Ga.; S. C. Mitchell of Richmond, Va., and Dr. McCulloch of Nashville and such women as Mrs. Archibald Trawick and Mrs. J. D. Hammond showed that the highest type of southern white men and women are entering into constantly larger and-fuller co-operation with the negro to help him.

er co-operation with the negro to help him.

"The culmination in this line was reached when Dr. McCulloch was reading his paper on this subject to the section of the ministers and educators. He told of a teacher of negroes who was criticised for his work and who said:

"I would give up my life rather than abandon my work."

"Dr. McCulloch said:

"I am going to call upon you to do a harder thing than give up your life. I am going to call upon you to give up your prejudices."

"Dr. Thomas Jesse Jones, who was at the head of the census bureau for negroes and who is doing a very important work in investigating negro schools in connection with the United States bureau of education, represented the long line of contact.

nection with the United States bureau of education, represented the long line of northern white men and women engaged in negro education. He showed in an effective way and with a strictly scien-tific spirit that all the groups of south-ern white people, the negroes and the northern whites should co-operate in lead-ing both white and colored people to the largest life.

Others Prominent in the Work.

"Such colored men and women as Maj loton of Hampton, Dr. Booker T. Wash ngton, Prof. Pickens of Talladega, Dr C. V. Roman of Nashville, Dr. P. O'Con nell of Atlanta, Mrs. Coralie Franklin Cook of Washington, D. C., and Mis Mary Jackson of Savannah showed in addresses that while they were not ready to surrender any of their claims for full manhood rights, opportunities and responsibilities, they were ready to meet as sincere the advances of their white neighbors and to heartily co-operate with them for the common good of the neigh-borhood, the city, the state and the borhood, the city, the state and the nation.

"The greatest thing about any such gathering is its spirit. The spirit of this convention was that of Christ. It and other recent meetings with the same spirit presage a new era in a fuller understanding of Christ and a truer and larger application of His teachings and love to all the individual and social problems of life."

BROAD EQUALITY

Support of the Act for Tolls Repeal.

REAL COASTWISE TRAFFIC NOT FOR THE WATERWAY

Holds Hay-Pauncefote Treaty Calls for Same Treatment to All in Use of Panama Waterway.

Senator Root, republican member of the foreign relations committee, held the Senate in rapt attention for five hour yesterday, speaking in support of the administration bill to repeal the tolls ex emption clause of the Panama canal law ator Kern, democratic floor leader, led the applause from the floor and spec tators in the galleries joined in.

United States to its own citizens in the use of the Panama canal must be the same as the treatment to be accorded the citizens of all other nations. the citizens of all other nations.

Senator Root declared that the United States always had insisted on this broad principle of equality, and insisted that the understanding of Henry White, Joseph H. Choate, John Hay and Theodore Roosevelt, the Americans who negotiated the treaty, was that the equality mentioned in the convention was the broad equality which had marked American diplomacy.

Overseas Trade for Canal.

the coastwise trade of the United States hould be differentiated from the over seas trade in the use of the Panama canal, Senator Root declared that he did not believe there would be any real coast wise trade through the Panama canal.
"If there was any real coastwise trade wise trade through the Panama canal.

"If there was any real coastwise trade of this country to pass through the canal." said Senator Root. "I would not question our right to treat it in a different manner from the overseas trade. But no ral coastwise traffic of this country can go through the Panama canal, which is over a thousand miles from our shores. The trade that will go through it is, in kind, overseas trade. Yet that kind of trade is included under our statute and has the benefit of this exemption.

"The discrimination is solely between kinds of trade, between the kinds of trade in American ships and the kind carried on in the ships of other nations. Canada, Mexico, the Central and South American countries will have the same kind of trade between her ports and kinds of trade between her ports and kinds of trade between her ports and hongkong.

"The basis of the discrimination, therefore, is nothing but the flag, and this is not in conformity with the rule of equality for all nations, which should prevail.

Great Britain's Real Attitude.

"We are told that we must repeal thi law at the behest of Great Britain. What has she said to us?" Senator Root read Edward Grev to show that England had only asked for arbitration of this matter of exemption of coastwise vessels. "Does that sound like a behest? Is there anything arrogant about that?" demanded Senator Root. "Arbitration when we ask it. Oh, yes. But when another nation wants it, 'never, never, furl the American flag."

American flag.

"Why are we here discussing this repeal bill when Great Britain has only asked for arbitration of the question at issue? Former President Taft, former President Roosevelt, many of the senators, I myself. have declared for arbitration. President Wilson is devoted to arbitration.

"We are here because two-thirds of the Senate would not agree to submitting this question to arbitration," declared nator Root in solemn tones. first discussed this matter early last year I spoke in favor of arbitration, but I know that the obstacles to obtaining bitration seemed insurmountable Refusal Means Dishonor.

"Right or wrong," he said, "if we decide TOTAL USAGE this in our favor and refuse to arbitrate, we are discredited and dishonored. We have repudiated our own principles Now let any senator who votes against Now let any senator who votes against repeal take the responsibility of leading his country into that position. If every constituent of mine was looking forward to lower freight rates, I would not so lead my country. Had I in my soul all the nation-hatred taught in my youth, I would not do it."

He added that the United States should not wait for all the nations of the world to protest against the exemption because the United States must be the keeper of its own conscience and act on its own its own conscience and act on its own judgment without waiting for protests. If he were right as to the interpretation of the treaty, he declared, he would not favor exemption even if Great Britain gave its consent, because the question was broader than the rights of Great Britain gave its consent,

In closing Mr. Root said he would venture to say American diplomacy had en-nobled and sweetened international intercourse. He called upon his fellow sen-ators to meet their duty to their country in the same big and noble spirit that John Hay had met his.
